President Favors Big Naval Bill

Vinson Says Measure Is in Accord With Financial Program of Roosevelt

Program Grows Compulsory Training Takes Rank With Defense Items

Washington, June 19 (AP)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said today that the $4,000,000,000 naval expansion bill recommended by the House naval committee yesterday has President Roosevelt's approval.

"I am authorized to state," Vinson said, "that the bill we approved yesterday is in accordance with the financial program of the President."

The measure would merely authorize the expansion. It would carry no funds although Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, who recommended the huge, seven-year program, said that if Congress approved it he would ask at this session for $175,000,000 to start construction.

The question of compulsory national service for American youth—now being studied by President Roosevelt—soon may be put squarely into Congress, where a mixed reception was indicated today.

The Chief Executive discussed universal training at his press conference yesterday, saying he might communicate with Congress on the subject within the next three or six weeks.

An administration lieutenant, Senator Byrnes (D-S.C.), followed up with the statement that he understood the war department already had worked out plans for such a program.

Program Expands As argument developed over this defense issue, other aspects of the preparedness program bid for attention on Capitol Hill.

Informed sources predicted a substantial additional request for funds for the army.

Passage of the navy's surprise $4,000,000,000 fleet expansion plan was unanimously recommended to the House by its naval committee.

A Senate committee took steps to provide money to start the Ford Motor Company on the mass production of airplane engines on government order.

Legislation to empower the President to send Red Cross "mercy" ships into the war zone was temporarily blocked by Senator Holt (D-W. Va.), who accused the administration of stirring up hatred and said the ships might provide an "incident" which would send the country to war.

The House passed the Senate-approved resolution which puts the United States on record as opposed to the transfer of foreign possessions in the western hemisphere.

Appears Again 'Big Gang' Cohen Gets Another Call to Testify Before Grand Jury

Monticello, N. Y., June 19 (AP)—Irving "Big Gang" Cohen, Hollywood bit player, is to appear again today before a Sullivan county jury which heard witnesses say he was near Swan Lake the night Walter Sage was stabbed to death in July, 1937.

Cohen is charged with first degree murder in the killing, one of 57 linked to a Brooklyn "murder-for-cash" syndicate.

John Bullock, Loch Sheldrake contractor, told the court yesterday Cohen sought lodging in his home the night of the slaying, but was refused.

Orville Miller, also of Loch Sheldrake, testified Cohen confronted him with a gun the next morning when he opened his garage. Cohen, Miller said, forced him to drive to a bus station, hiding on the automobile floor en route.

B.P.W. Would Have Clinton Avenue of Uniform Width

Curb on Tubby Street and Advisability of Buying Supplies Before Steel Rises Are Studied

Narrowing of Clinton avenue from 45 to 40 feet; ordering the laying of curb on Tubby street, and considering a proposal to purchase needed supplies and equipment for street maintenance before this country plunged into its defense preparedness program, were the more important matters taken up at the Board of Public Works meeting on Tuesday afternoon.

"The price of anything having steel in it is bound to advance in price as soon as our country begins its defense preparedness program," said Mayor C. J. Heislman, presiding at the board meeting, and he suggested that all outworn machines be replaced as quickly as possible and that needed supplies such as nails and other articles used by the board be purchased.

The mayor suggested that the superintendent and city engineer take an inventory of what material and supplies were on hand and what was needed. He said that the purchase of new equipment at this time would save the taxpayers money.

Tank Price Higher Mayor Heislman as an example as to how prices were beginning to advance on certain articles said that the water department had recently been forced to purchase a 50,000-gallon tank to replace the old one in the filter house, and that the new tank had cost $1,000 more than the old tank.

City Engineer James G. Norton sent in a communication to the board calling attention to the varying widths of Clinton avenue. The street was 45 feet wide from Franklin street; 32 feet wide from Franklin street to St. James street; 40 feet wide from St. James street to Pearl street; 29 feet wide from Pearl street to John street, and 25 feet wide from John street to North Front street.

The city engineer suggested that Clinton avenue be narrowed from 45 to 40 feet on the block between Greenkill avenue and Franklin streets. He said it would be impossible to widen the street from John to North Front street, where it was but 25 feet in width, without involving heavy expense in the purchase of properties.

Before taking any action on the recommendation that Clinton avenue be narrowed the board decided to inspect the street.

Object to Fence The city engineer sent in a communication that he had received a complaint with regard to the erection of a fence at 102 O'Neill street, at Smith avenue.

Anglo-Japanese Pact Settles Differences

London, June 19 (AP)—The signature in Tokyo of a British-Japanese agreement settling several points of their Tientsin controversy was announced today in the house of commons by R. A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs.

The house cheered as Butler announced that the Japanese army's barricades around the British concession in the North China city, were being removed as a result of the new accord.

The military blockade of both the British and French concessions at Tientsin has been maintained for more than a year, causing friction and inconvenience to foreign business in North China.

State Inventory Is New Defense Act

Governor Would Know What Actual Resources Are in Industrial Lines

Albany, N. Y., June 19 (AP)—Inventory of New York's industrial resources was under way today in another suddenly-determined move by Governor Lehman and legislators of both parties to speed a defense program.

The survey was called for last night after the Legislature's industrial and labor relations committee and state planning council executives conferred with the governor on methods of expediting defenses and aiding industry.

As a result of the session, a meeting of New York business, industrial and labor representatives also was scheduled in the Capitol July 9 and 10 to discuss defense needs, methods of discouraging industries from leaving the state and means of attracting new enterprise.

Dropping the political hostilities that characterized the last legislative session in favor of a unified effort to push the defense program, the planning council and the legislative committee, headed by Republican Assembly Majority Leader Irving Ives, urged the industrial inventory.

Accordingly, the governor instructed Dr. M. P. Catherwood, planning council chairman, to undertake the checkup immediately "as part of the national defense program."

"To this end," he said, "I will instruct all department heads to assist the state planning council in any way that lies in their power."

700 Civil Service Delegates to Come For 3-Day Parley

Convention Opens Friday and Committee Meets Today to Arrange Final Details

The Civil Service Association of the state of New York will open a three-day session in Kingston on Friday, and arrangements for the convention have been made by a local committee, appointed by Mayor C. J. Heislman. The local committee meets this afternoon to complete final arrangements.

It is expected that approximately 700 delegates from all sections of the state will attend the annual convention here. Headquarters will be located in the Governor Clinton Hotel and convention sessions will be held in the municipal auditorium.

The members of the local committee are headed by John J. Egan as chairman, and are Alderman Paul A. Zucca, Raymond R. Gross, Allan L. Hanstein, Harry B. Walker, E. Frank Flanagan, Thomas W. Miller, secretary to the mayor.

It is planned to have automobiles meet the train on Friday to transport the delegates to the hotel.

An interesting program of entertainment has been arranged for the delegates. Friday evening boxing bouts will be held in the auditorium, and Saturday night the annual convention dance will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

On Sunday the delegates will be entertained at an old fashioned picnic and entertainment at the Twaalfskill Golf Club.

This will be the 32nd annual convention. The officers are: President, William J. Donohue of Binghamton; vice president, Frank J. Prial of New York; treasurer, John D. Keleher of New York; and secretary, Edward J. O'Neill of Brooklyn.

City Will Try Again to Get State Permission to Install Sewer Line

No new sanitary sewers can be built in Kingston until the city constructs a sewage disposal plant under a ruling of the state health department, it was reported at the Board of Health meeting on Tuesday evening when a communication was received from the state department denying permission to construct a sanitary sewer in Ridge street.

At the May meeting of the health board a delegation of Ridge street property owners, headed by Supervisor Henry Dittus of the Seventh Ward, appeared and urged that a sanitary sewer be constructed in that street.

The delegation was informed at that time of the ruling that had

Axis Might Use Army For Control

Occupation Might Be Carried Out With Troops in France, Is Rome Report

Italy Fights On No Slackening of Duce's Military Activities Is Noted

Rome, June 19 (AP)—Stationing of an Italian-German army of occupation on French soil was foreseen by political circles today as a probable condition of the terms which Premier Mussolini and Adolf Hitler decided yesterday France must accept to obtain peace.

This prediction was advanced as Rome prepared to welcome Mussolini in triumph on his return from a history-making conference with his axis partner at Munich.

Although there was no official information concerning the details of the peace terms upon which they have agreed, informed quarters believed it certain they would insist on full guarantees against any part of France being involved in future military operations against either Italy or Germany.

Such safeguards were regarded as essential in Italian circles in view of Britain's announced determination to continue hostilities.

There was no hint, meanwhile, of any slackening of Italian military activity.

Warning to France Fascists warned that French rejection of the terms fixed at Munich would bring a swift "final assault" by the combined German and Italian armies to smash her to the ground.

Stefani, the official Italian news agency, said the terms would be "more generous" than the treatment France could have expected had she accepted an 11th hour offer of political union with Britain.

The newspaper Il Popolo Di Roma said Germany and Italy would demand unconditional surrender of France.

Its Munich correspondent said a precise plan had been drawn up for division of French territory between German and Italian armies to prevent the French from aiding Britain any further.

German and Italian plans for an armistice, he said, likewise will require France to hand over all her gold, raw materials and factories for use in the fight against Britain.

Preliminary conditions for an armistice are intended to prevent the army from going into action again after a truce has been reached, he added.

Economic Terms He listed these economic terms for France:

To deliver or make available her gold and credit.

To make available gold holdings and credits of other enemy states which are in French hands. The newspaper interpreted this to include gold and credits belonging to Poland, Norway, Holland and Belgium.

Delivery of all raw materials from oil to copper, molybdenum and manganese for immediate re-

Russia Occupies Baltic States

This map shows how Russian soldiers, beginning with their occupation of Lithuania have marched into new Baltic territory. From Lithuania and Russia, Red Troops moved into Latvia, while units of the Russian fleet steamed into Riga. Other troops moved into Estonia at the same time. A Berlin correspondent said he learned 2,000 Soviet tanks were massed on the Lithuanian-German border. Also indicated is the area Russia took from Finland.

Italy Gets U. S. Warning No Tampering in This Hemisphere

Rome, June 19 (AP)—A source usually reliable said today that the United States government, invoking the Monroe Doctrine, had warned Italy that it would not countenance any German or Italian interference with French or British possessions in the western hemisphere.

The informant said he understood that an American note to the Italian government quoted passages from President Monroe's 1823 message which proclaimed the famous doctrine, particularly that part opposing any extension of the political systems of foreign powers to the American hemisphere.

It was said that a statement of the American position was delivered by Ambassador William Phillips to the Italian authorities yesterday.

French possessions in the western hemisphere—the territories most immediately concerned in view of the French request for an armistice—are French Guiana, Martinique and Guadeloupe in the West Indies and St. Pierre and Miquelon off Newfoundland.

Conquered Nations Must Fit Themselves to Nazi Barter

Swastika Flies At County School

Janitor Discovers Emblem; Ropes on Pole Cut

This morning when Richard Melius, janitor at the Saugerties high school went out to haul up the American flag, he was startled to see flying from the flag-pole on the school grounds a swastika which had apparently been raised some time during the night.

Melius found the swastika had been raised to the top of the pole and ropes cut, making it impossible to haul down the Nazi emblem.

Chief of Police A. W. Richter was summoned and the Saugerties fire department was called to put up a fifty foot ladder and cut down the swastika.

Second Flag The swastika at the high school was the second to be turned in to Chief Richter and was found to be the second half of a bed sheet which was found on Market street at Lafayette street Tuesday night about 11 o'clock by Arthur Schoen with the Nazi emblem painted upon it.

The first swastika was found in the gutter by Mr. Schoen who had observed a car stop and remove the emblem which had apparently been hung across Market street. The identity of the car is not known. Mr. Schoen observed the car stop and either threw down the emblem or cut the rope which held it over the street. He picked the emblem up and turned it over to Chief Richter.

Chief Richter said when the second emblem was turned over to

At Least Outward Show of Normalcy Is Seen in Nations Taken by Blitzkrieg

Berlin, June 19 (AP)—A great part of Europe—eight formerly independent nations and now probably France—must find a place in Germany's totalitarian economic and industrial scheme as a result of German expansion and war victories.

For the nation already absorbed, world trade has disappeared, and business is upside down as it tries to adjust itself to the German system of barter and planned economy.

In many of the lands through which the blitzkrieg has passed at least the outward appearance of normalcy is being restored in a surprisingly short time.

In Bohemia-Moravia, which got a pre-war taste of German economic management, fields are being tilled, factories are operating and people are working.

An effort is being made to make the same conditions prevail in Poland, where there is a demand for all the food that can be produced.

In Denmark, Norway, and to a lesser extent in Holland and Belgium, too, the Reich is bending every nerve to keep the people working, the fields producing, the factories turning.

Problems Remain But terrific problems of readjustment remain to be worked out. Germany herself avoided any sudden increase in unemployment at the start of the war. War industry and the army absorbed

Nazis Make Great Gains In France

Over Half of Nation Now Nazi-Controlled; Oil Tanks on Thames Are Set Afire

Cherbourg Falls Nazis Take Cherbourg, Lyon, Rennes and Other Points

(By the Associated Press) Berlin, June 19—Twin Nazi machines—the diplomatic and the military—moved ever more swiftly today to bring about the speedy capitulation of France.

While authorized German sources said half of France is now in Nazi hands and Hitler's troops are still advancing, word came from Bordeaux that the French government has been apprised that Hitler and Mussolini are ready to receive French representatives for the presentation of the armistice terms.

The Germans so notified the government of Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain through Spanish diplomatic channels.

German troops were reported moving southward through France in giant strides, headed toward the sands of the Riviera. They approached Lyon, some 200 miles up the Rhone from Marseille and the sea.

At only one point, near the northern terminus of the Maginot Line in the vicinity of Thionville, did the high command specifically mention continued French resistance.

Oil Tanks Burn As a forerunner of what may lie ahead, England was bombed in the night. Oil tanks along the Thames were fired and airports strafed.

The great transatlantic shipping port of Cherbourg, France, the important railroad center of Rennes, Brittany, and the manufacturing town of Nancy have all fallen before the still advancing German armies, the high command announced.

The army of France, scattered over a broken and irregular front from the lower English channel to the Swiss border, was fighting with the traditional stubbornness of the poilu, but the high command said the French "are dissolving more and more."

The French were fighting on orders of Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, on whose aged shoulders rested the choice between peace on terms fixed by the Berlin-Rome axis partners or a continuation of the losing battle.

There were no details in the communiqué on the capture of Cherbourg, which lies across the channel just south of Plymouth and Southampton, England, and west of Le Havre, which is already in German hands.

Rennes, which the Germans have also taken, is a junction for trains running from Brest and St.

Mine Sinks Liner Ship Is Sunk 20 Miles Off New Zealand Coast, Prime Minister Says

Auckland, N. Z., June 19 (AP)—Prime Minister Peter Fraser told Parliament today that an enemy mine had sunk the Canadian-Australian liner Niagara, which went down yesterday 20 miles off the New Zealand coast. This was the first official indication that German mines had been sown in Pacific waters.

As Fraser spoke, rescue ships and planes were aiding the 146 passengers and 203 crewmen of the vessel who took to their boats following the explosion which sunk the liner. All were declared safe and proceeding here.

Fraser told Parliament that minesweepers dispatched to the scene early today already had found one mine, removing all doubt as to the cause of the sinking.

Column Is Dispersed
Rome, June 19 (AP)—Dispersal of a British armored column which attempted to penetrate Italian lines in East Africa allegedly under cover of the Italian flag was reported today by the Italian high command. The communique said Italian planes sank an enemy submarine and continued attacks on allied air bases in East Africa, resulting in the burning of three planes. The allies were reported to have bombed an East African farm village, killing three women and several children, and to have continued attacks on northern Italian cities but without causing casualties or serious damage.

Laidlaw Explains Promotion System In City's Schools

Superintendent of Schools, Arthur J. Laidlaw, today released the following statement relative to the new promotional plan to be put into effect in city schools in the autumn:

To the parents and children in the elementary schools:

A new system of promotions has been adopted by the Kingston Public Schools. Pupils will be admitted to the first grade in the elementary schools in September only and promoted in June only. It is expected that January, 1941, will be the last time a class will be promoted at mid-year. Since there is no January graduation from high school the inauguration of this plan will not cause any loss of time to the child.

The advantages of this plan are:

The pupil will work with the same teacher for a full year, making it possible for the teacher to become better acquainted with each child's abilities and needs.

Because of this closer relationship there will be less retardations.

An economy of time will be effected because less record keeping will be involved and there will be no days lost at mid-years for the adjustments which come with promotion. This means more time to fit instruction to the individual child.

A financial saving will result because a fewer number of teachers will be required.

Operating on the semi-annual promotion basis which calls for A and B divisions in a room, thus making it necessary for the teacher to divide the days between the two divisions. On the new plan, where annual promotions are made, there will be only one division in a room thus making it possible for the teacher to give fifty per cent more time to the children in the room. This is very very important and will lead to much better instruction.

In adopting this set-up, Kingston will be conforming with the majority of the school systems throughout the state.

As a parent, you are, of course, primarily interested in how this adjustment will affect your child. Such a change of policy cannot be carried out without many changes in grade placement.

Your child has been carefully studied by both teacher and principal during these past weeks. They have considered not merely his ability to do the work of any particular grade, but his age and emotional maturity, and they have tried to place each child where he can adjust himself to this new policy most happily.

Your principal will be glad to talk over with you any phase of your child's school life, and will welcome any opportunity to insure closer cooperation between home and school as they work together for the good of the child.

Signed
Arthur J. Laidlaw
Superintendent of Schools,
Principal in the Elementary Schools.

MT. MARION

Mt. Marion, June 19—John Jacob Scheffel, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. David Scheffel of Ruby, was christened in the Mt. Marion Church Sunday, June 16, during the Children's Day exercises. The city, however, would have to purchase a site for the plant as well as detailed plans for the building, and also purchase considerable equipment that would be needed.

Sites in the Wilbur section of the city were being studied but no conclusion has been reached. The mayor said that if the WPA should fold up and the work was unfinished, the city would have to complete the job.

It was reported at the meeting that the "state health department is trying to force the city to build a sewage disposal plant, regardless of the city's financial condition."

It was said that while it would be necessary in time to erect two disposal plants, one in Wilbur and the other at Kingston Point, that the Wilbur plant was being considered first, since it would take care of the greater part of the sewage.

Injuries Are Fatal To Young Driver In Sunday Crash

There was a second death as a result of the automobile accident on the Shawangunk Trail Sunday evening, when Woodrow Wilson Smith, 21, son of Mrs. Grover Smith of Ellenville died at the Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, shortly before noon Tuesday.

Smith never regained consciousness after the crash. An autopsy, ordered by Coroner Jesse McHugh, was performed by Drs. Taylor and Roberts and disclosed that Smith had suffered extensive brain injury as the result of fracture at the base of the skull, in addition to severe internal injuries. Smith was unmarried.

Mrs. Julia Conklin Crawford, 34, of Summitville, was killed instantly, when the car in which she and three others, including the driver, Benjamin Crawford, 40, of Summitville, were riding, collided with the Buick sedan driven by Smith. Three other victims of the crash still at the Ellenville Hospital. This morning it was reported that Benjamin Crawford, who suffered fractured ribs was in fair condition. Harriet Palmer, 49, who for some time past had made her home with the Crawfords at Summitville and who has a broken shoulder bone, also was said to be fair.

Lillian Crawford, 17, was said to be as good as could be expected considering the severe injuries she received. Miss Crawford sustained fractures of both legs above the knees, there being a compound fracture of the right leg. She also received bruises and lacerations.

Three Ellenville boys, who were riding with Smith were discharged from the hospital after their injuries had been treated. They were Joseph Gash, George Bigford and Walter Ignatik.

Investigation by Troopers Reynolds and Obuhunich immediately after the accident, indicated that Smith had been instructed by the Rev. E. C. Nilan of St. Mary's Church, owner of the Buick sedan, to get the car in shape for a trip Monday, but had picked up the three other boys and gone for a ride up the Shawangunk Trail. The accident happened about 7 o'clock in the evening at a point some four miles up the trail, east of Ellenville.

Doxology

Roland Myers, superintendent.

In 1937, the latest year for which complete figures are available, July topped every other month of the year for lives lost by drowning, excessive heat, electric shock, lightning and food poisoning. It bowed only to January in the matter of deaths from falls.

2,000 Soldiers Go Into Neutral Area

Le Locle, on the French-Swiss frontier, June 19 (P)—Two thousand French soldiers, including a general, two colonels, four lieutenant-colonels and 35 other officers of the aviation staff for the Dijon region stumbled wearily across Col Des Roches ridge into neutral Switzerland.

They surrendered to Swiss army border guards, and without a murmur many fell exhausted to sleep on the grass.

The steady flow of civilian refugees continued across this part of the Jura frontier—the old and the young in the dispirited masses. They said many others were being caught by bombing and being caught in the fighting in the Doubs valley, southeast of Besancon, France.

Some of the soldiers' uniforms were torn and bloody.

Many of them had fought at Verdun.

They reached Bescancon Sunday, they said, expecting to form a new army, only to find the city abandoned. A munition dumps and gasoline storage tanks were burning. Roads were filled with vehicles, abandoned for lack of fuel, or burned and twisted from bombings.

Yesterday they met a strong German motorized unit near Pontarlier. The Germans fired at them only long enough to force their way through to the southwest towards the Saone valley.

This morning they fought at Joux, between Leocle and Pontarlier, a junction where French forces on two international railways lines were holding out against periodic attacks of a German panzer unit.

The Reich's great need for every conceivable product gives a natural market for countries successively occupied by the German army.

The easiest adjustment probably is being made by Denmark, where no physical damage to industries or the countryside interfered with normal industry.

Denmark's biggest jolt was the sudden and total loss of the British market for bacon and dairy products.

Germany, to an increasing extent, is taking these supplies, but the problem of payment has not been completely worked out.

Denmark also was threatened with a shortage of feed, which she largely imports, for her cattle, but the Germans say they managed to supply enough until summer pasturage became available and now the problem is solved until next winter.

Corn and Barley

An adequate supply of corn and barley for Danish chickens was a more troublesome problem because these supplies must be obtained from the Balkans, and the long rail haul, when railroads are busy with war transportation, is a factor.

German intervention in domestic affairs has been more energetic in Norway, where there was considerable property damage and unemployment as a result of the prostrating blow by the German army.

Under German direction, a Norwegian administrative council established a voluntary work service.

Is Bitten by Dog

It was reported to the police department Tuesday afternoon that Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ronder of 85 Johnston avenue, was bitten by a dog owned by R. O. Gruver of Washington avenue. The wound was cauterized at the Kingston Hospital. The report stated the dog was on a leash in the Gruver back yard and that the boy entered the yard, tripped over the leash and fell upon the animal, a Scottie puppy.

The output of central electric stations in Canada during the first four months of 1940 totaled 9,718,053,000 kilowatt hours compared with 9,165,272,000 kilowatt hours in the corresponding period of 1939.

TRAPPED FRENCH ESCAPE MAGINOT LINE

This map shows how a large force of French soldiers, estimated at 350,000, succeeded in escaping the Alsace-Lorraine area (1) after German forces had driven deep from the north behind the Maginot line (black area). A few thousand battleworn French Airplane chasseurs were credited with holding open a passageway (with arrow) for 36 hours, while 300,000 of their comrades moved out. Meantime French troops continued to resist, most fiercely in the Orleans section (2), while Hitler and Mussolini met at Munich to outline peace terms.

workers whose jobs disappeared as the production of luxuries and unessential goods was curtailed.

Now war industry is so busy that thousands of workers have been imported from Bohemia-Moravia and Poland.

vice to rehabilitate the regions where fighting took place.

The volunteers received their keep and pay up to 15 cents a day. The council emphasized the need of increasing food production.

Consequently loans were made available to land owners and soldiers were urged to turn to farming when demobilized. Considerable numbers of unemployed were set to work felling trees.

The Norwegian pulp industry seemed to face special difficulty because Germany does not need to import much paper but hope was held out that a process to convert pulp into food for animals might be feasible.

Holland's Problem

Holland was confronted by widespread unemployment by the German occupation. It is estimated that 300,000 now are without jobs and that figure may be raised to 500,000 when demobilization is completed.

A German economic commission at the Hague has proposed that hundreds of thousands of these unemployed be used to carry out a great reconstruction program.

Arrangements also are under way to bring Dutch workers to Germany under contracts which, it was said, will permit them to remit their earnings to their families.

Belgium and France still are under close control of the German military administration, which, it was explained, has set out to achieve two aims:

Establish and preserve order. Care for refugees.

Germans said that preserving order was surprisingly easy because the population was inclined to cooperate, especially after learning that the administration of everyday affairs was to be left in their hands.

The same policemen remain on duty in the streets, the same postmen deliver the mail and the same local laws remain in effect, it was said.

When he investigated the complaint he found the fence already erected. He reported it took two feet of the sidewalk area.

The city engineer was directed to notify the owner of the fence to move it back off the sidewalk area.

City Engineer Norton reported on a proposed extension of Lincoln street to Farrelly street, and said the project was not feasible as it meant too steep a grade. The grade would be a 40 per cent grade. The report was filed.

Tubby Street Curbs

Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin sent in a resolution to be approved by the board requiring Tubby street property owners to lay curbs in front of their properties. They were given until July 1 to have it done or the work would be done by the board and charged to the owner. The resolution was adopted.

It was explained that the street is now being rebuilt and while some of the houses have curbing, many of them have no curbs in front of their properties.

No Sidewalks

Myra S. Whiston sent in a communication that she was willing to deed the city property at 121-135 Linderman avenue for sidewalk purposes, provided the city agreed to erect a retaining wall in front of the property and rebuild the steps.

The city engineer informed the board that on that section of Linderman avenue there were no sidewalks, and to make room for sidewalks it was necessary to have the property owners furnish the land needed for that purpose.

The communication was filed. The mayor called attention to cracks that are appearing in the pavement along Broadway and suggested that something should be done this summer to fill in the cracks before next winter.

Superintendent Steuding was directed to give the matter attention.

Report of Work Done

Superintendent Steuding submitted a written report of work done by the department during May. A number of sewers had been flushed and manholes cleaned.

The following streets were patched with material during May:

Ann street, Belvedere street, Broadway, Burgevin street, Chambers street, Clifton avenue, Davis street, Delta Place, Downs street, East Pierpont street, Farrelly street, Flatbush avenue, Gage street, Hasbrouck Park road, Henry street, Hunter street, Josephine avenue, Joy's Lane, Mill street, O'Neil street, Wilbur avenue, Wall street, Second avenue, Third avenue.

The following streets were scarified and rolled:

Adams street, Bruyn avenue, Clarendon avenue, East Union street (High Road), Fairview avenue, Grand View avenue, Glen street, Kiersted Lane, Noone's

Lane, North street, Pearl street, Westrum street, Wrentham street, Yoeman street, First avenue.

City Engineer's Report

City Engineer James G. Norton submitted the following report of work done during May:

Made plan and profile of Downs street and submitted project. Made out zoning permits for eight houses, seven garages, seven additions and one miscellaneous. Submitted projects for grading M. J. M. School Yard, Municipal Garage Yard and addition to Fire Alarm System. Made large scale map of Broadway, Dederick to Cornell.

Making map of First and Eighth Ward brooks and First and Twelfth Ward storm sewers. Made 132 blueprints, covering 379 square feet.

Staked out baseball diamond and track at stadium. Gave line and grade for sewers and paving on Van Deusen avenue, West O'Reilly street and Clinton avenue. Gave line and grade for curbs on Tubby street, City Hall, Dock street, Wood street, Marius street and Howland avenue. Ran levels on Lincoln street between Florence and Farrelly. Staked out softball diamonds at Block, Hasbrouck, Loughran, Armory and Barmann Parks. Gave grade for walk on Harding avenue; also gave line and grades for various structures at Hutton and Block Parks. Making location surveys for Locust avenue.

Laid water line on Clinton avenue, St. James street to North Front and Greenkill to Cedar street.

Finished concrete work on stage at Block Park and started superstructure. Poured vertical wall foundation for handball court. Placed gravel for tennis court and continued grading and placing top soil.

At Hutton Park, building wall and excavation for wading pool. Completed Tubby street except for oil. Also completed Howland and Van Deusen except for oiling. Started curb on Marius street. Removing stumps throughout the city.

Work done by NYA includes grading at Lawton Park and building and placing heavier board on walls and ceiling of structure.

He also reported 849 feet of sewer laid in Linderman avenue, O'Neil and Downs street.

The Twaalfskill brook culvert was reported 85 per cent completed.

The board then adjourned.

In Yale Review

The June issue of "The Yale Review" contains a short sketch, "The Tow Path," by Adin Ballou of 386 Albany avenue, this city. The little essay treats of a part of the old D. H. canal at that place where it parallels the Lackawanna river in Pike county, Pa.

Half-Year Plates Arrive at Bureau

While many automobile owners are still waiting for July first in order to secure a half year license plate at reduced cost, the Ulster County Motor Vehicle Bureau on Tuesday received its first shipment of 1941 tags.

Included in the shipment which came by truck from Auburn prison were passenger, commercial, suburban, trailer and motorcycle plates. The plates were placed in the recently acquired county building on Main street adjoining the county clerk's office which will house the Motor Vehicle Bureau as soon as alterations are completed.

In the shipment were the usual 7-D, 8-D and 9-D series of passenger car plates. No low number plates have yet been shipped out.

W.C.T.U. to Meet

The June meeting of the Kingston Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held Thursday, June 20, at 2:30 o'clock in the parlor of St. James Church. The devotional period will be conducted by Miss L. Davis. The topic, "The Price of Something for Nothing," will be developed by Mrs. L. Sickles, under the following heading, "Slot Machines, Lotteries, Parimutuel Betting and Other Kinds of Gambling." All who are interested in the work of this organization are welcome.

Society to Meet

The Missionary Society of the Church of the Comforter will hold its regular meeting in the church hall Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

LaTour Is Presented With Ring

Ex-fireman Frederick A. LaTour was honored last evening at the Central Fire House when members of the department presented him with a gold signet ring. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, left, is shown making the presentation as William McElrath, ex-fireman, who was retired in May, looks on. LaTour had been a member of the department for the past 16 years.

Cramer Is Hurt When Cycle Skids

Motorcycle Officer Wesley Cramer had a narrow escape from serious injury shortly before 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when he was hurled from his machine while turning from Broadway into Andrew street. He suffered a bruised back and left arm, and although his wrist became badly swollen he continued at work.

Officer Cramer at the time was responding to a radio call reporting an auto crash in front of the Benedictine Hospital on Mary's avenue. Righting his motorcycle the officer mounted and resumed his interrupted trip.

Today, although he is still suffering from bruises and is somewhat stiff from the results of his fall he reported for duty.

New Cars Likely For Police Bureau

It is expected that the Board of Police Commissioners at the regular monthly meeting Thursday evening will take action toward replacing the present radio cars with new automobiles.

Mayor C. J. Heiselman at the public works board meeting Tuesday afternoon stated that he was going to ask the police board to take that action when they met this week.

The mayor said that his request was based on the fact that as soon as the country's defense preparedness program got under way it would be difficult to obtain equipment that would be needed to carry on the city's business.

Men's Club Meets

Monday evening the Men's Club of the Wurts Street Baptist Church held its last regular monthly business meeting until the fall season. The meeting was called to order by the president, Lewis Myers. At the conclusion of the business session, they had as their guest speaker, the Rev. Miles Fisk, a veteran of the Spanish-American and World Wars, who is now residing in Kingston. His opening remarks were in reference to his own life history. Of particular interest was his remarks about the lobster industry along the coast of Maine. Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

W. J. Sheils Dies

When the thermometer skyrocketed as it did in 1936 and 1934, from 2,000 to 3,000 more people die of the heat during the month of July than in the average July.

Red Cross Relief Exceeds $12,000; City Drive Lags

Contributions totalling $12,573.76 were reported at the meeting Tuesday of the sub-committee and chairmen of the current campaign of the Ulster County Chapter American Red Cross for the War Relief Fund.

With the towns of Saugerties, Woodstock and New Paltz leading the way, the local chapter has exceeded its original quota by $2,000 and is well on its way to the attainment of the present quota of $20,000—its share of the nationwide $200,000 War Relief Fund.

Despite the excellent progress in several of the townships, the drive has been hindered somewhat by the poor showing of the city wards. Several of the city wards have shown fair results but a comparison of Kingston and Saugerties shows the upriver community with its total of $2,156.50 and a smaller population far ahead of Kingston with its $5,154.69 and a population more than five times greater than Saugerties.

The Students Theatre at Woodstock submitted a proposition to the Red Cross whereby a stage production presented July 7 would turn over its entire receipts for the Red Cross War Relief Fund. On the suggestion of former Senator Charles W. Walton, chairman of the drive, this offer was accepted and further plans will be made for the event.

Results of the drive in Ulster county to date are as follows:

St. John's Church School Will Hold Annual Picnic

The annual church school and parish picnic of St. John's Episcopal Church will be held Thursday, June 20, at DeWitt Lake on the Rosendale road, weather permitting. Walter T. Elston, superintendent of the church school, is in charge of the arrangements, and asks all who plan to attend to be at the church at 10:45 o'clock. Parents and friends who might use their cars for transportation are asked to call Mr. Elston as soon as possible. This annual picnic has always been attended by a large number. There will be swimming and boating, games and refreshments for old and young. Those attending, however, are asked to bring their own box lunches.

'The Flag Speaks' To Be Presented At Local Theatre

Ulster county Legionnaires, according to a report made to county Commander Harry Kirchner by Jack Rabin, chairman on Americanism, are now actively engaged in encouraging theatres throughout Ulster county to exhibit the new technicolor film produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer captioned "The Flag Speaks".

The history of the flag and its relation to the growth of democracy in the United States is dramatically portrayed in this M-G-M two reeler that was produced at a cost of $80,000.

This timely, vital and compelling picture will be shown in Kingston at the Broadway Theatre on Monday, June 24 through the patriotic spirit of Bert Gildersleeve, manager of the theatre.

Mr. Gildersleeve has honored the local Legion Post, Kingston Post, No. 150, to act as host to the general public on that night.

Commander John Melville in accepting this honor in behalf of his Post assured Mr. Gildersleeve that the Kingston Post of the American Legion will give a fitting program.

The sons of the Legion under their leader, William H. Jordan, will parade up Broadway from the Legion Memorial Building and play a number of patriotic airs in front of the theatre.

The Junior sponsored Legion Band under command of Salvatore Castiglione (Sal Cast) will render patriotic selections on the stage. The Kingston American Legion Drum Corp in charge of Captain Morton Finch, all in parade uniform, will act as honorary ushers and official reception committee.

City officials, Legion officials and representatives of all organizations as well as the Boy Scouts have been invited to participate in this patriotic rally Monday, June 24 at the Broadway Theatre.

Nearly 61 per cent of the domestic iron ore consumed by the steel industry over the past 20 years has come from mines in three counties of Minnesota—St. Louis, Itasca, and Crow Wing.

Y.M.C.A. Day Camp Soon to Be Opened

The Y. M. C. A. Day Camp soon will be opened and many boys in the city already have made plans to avail themselves of the program arranged by W. J. McCluskey, physical director of the "Y" and H. Weston, boys' secretary. The camp staff, which is made up of "Jack" St. John, "Rip" Anderson, and Jimmy Abernethy, have spent many hours in close huddles with "Mac" and "Wes" in arranging a schedule that is bound to keep the campers busy all the time.

Some of the things on the schedule include: Swimming progress clubs through which each boy passes a series of tests as he improves his swimming ability and at the successful conclusion of each test is eligible for an emblem signifying his prowess in the 'ole swimmin' hole.' There will be several expeditions off the camp grounds to such places as Woodland Valley State Park, North Lake and Williams Lake.

Craft periods will be held for those interested with such popular articles made as model airplane building, soap carving, wood-burning and leather belt making. There will be overnight hiking each week, boating, fishing and plenty of fine cool swimming.

Mr. Weston may be reached at the Y. M. C. A., telephone 1100, during the day or at his home 3038 any other time.

Woodstock Begins Summer Schedule For Local Library

Woodstock, June 19.—The Woodstock Library swings into its summer schedule this week, and for the next three months will be open five afternoons a week, Tuesday through Saturday, from 4 to 6 o'clock, and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Although many of the local residents members, occupied with additional social and business affairs of their own during the summer, make less use of the library in summer than they do in the fall and winter, the summer visitors crowd the reading rooms and the library's high degree of year round usefulness.

Also another valuable adjunct of the library, the book truck, begins its weekly rounds at this season. As usual the circuit will be in charge of Miss Florence Wedster, grown skilled in whisking the book trailer into place under a convenient tree, with Mrs. Thompson, librarian, on hand to open up the bookshelves and take charge of the circulation.

Beginning Wednesday, June 26, the schedule will be as follows: Wittenberg store 9:30 a. m. Shady, Reynolds' Corner, 10 a. m.

Zena Schoolhouse, 11 a. m. Shults Corners, 11:30 a. m. This service appeals to, and is chiefly made use of, by the children of the several neighborhoods.

Last season there were 271 borrowers, and a total of 625 books were circulated. If a desired volume should not be on hand, the librarian takes note of the request and supplies it the next week.

The annual meeting of the library, to which all enrolled members are invited, was held last week, June 13. The officers and several departmental chairmen reported on the year's work, the facts brought out in the librarian's report being of especial interest. The circulation has gone on increasing, now reaching an annual total of almost 22,000 volumes. Several hundred new books have also been added.

The annual election of new board members followed, the terms of four of the trustees having expired and one trustee, Dyrus Cook, having resigned.

Those re-elected or chosen as new members were Miss Isabel Doughty, W. S. Elwyn, Miss Elsa Kimball, Mrs. Joshua Rosett, Church Laymen and for the unexpired term of one year, Eugene Ludins.

At the conclusion of the annual meeting, the Board of Trustees was called together for the election of officers. Those re-elected were: Miss Isabel Doughty, president, Mrs. Julia Learycraft, vice-president, W. S. Elwyn, treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Russ, secretary, George Neher, chairman of administration, Ralph Eighmey, finance chairman, Mrs. Joseph Fireberg, chairman of the book committee, Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker, chairman of memberships and of publicity, Miss Wardwell, chairman of the annual County Fair reported that July 25 was the date decided upon. There will be the usual features, and in addition, as the top attraction, a dramatic star just off Broadway, whose name and specialty will be given out later.

Nazis, Atlantic shipping ports, and Paris.

Le Mans Is Passed
Le Mans, famous for the earliest stained glass cathedral windows in France, was passed through to the south, the communiqué said, and added that the Loire again was crossed at many points between Orleans and Nevers in North Central France.

The Nazi army, the communiqué said, was pushing forward from Burgundy south toward Lyon, another highly important manufacturing center in the Rhone Valley.

"West of Mulhouse armored and motorized divisions, coming from Belfort, were about to unite with troops which attacked across the upper Rhine and deeply advanced by way of Munster into the Vosges mountains," the communiqué said.

The high command admitted that the French will still resist in the Maginot Line on both sides of Thionville, but said its dive bombers were attacking.

It also disclosed that the British air force again had raided northern and western Germany and said that 18 civilians had died in the bombings.

At the same time, it stated, German airmen raided the Thames estuary, setting fire to big oil tank centers and bombarding airfields.

Securities Make Moderate Gains

Securities on the New York Stock Exchange made moderate gains Tuesday, although closing prices were at about the lowest levels of the day. Volume was 720,000 shares vs. 1,210,000 Monday. Industrials as measured by the Dow-Jones averages, after showing a gain of 1.71 in early trading, closed at 123.21, a net advance for the day of 41 point. Ralls gained .59, to close at 25.63 and utilities finished at 20.79, ahead .19 for the day. The market now has recovered about one-third of the ground lost since the May-June break and traders have become more cautious, apparently waiting till the trend of affairs becomes more clear, with special reference at present to the result of the Hitler-Mussolini conference Tuesday and disclosure of the demands to be made regarding France and its territorial possessions.

Loft and U. S. Steel led the list of 15 most active stocks Tuesday, with turnovers of 39,100 and 23,400 shares respectively, closing unchanged. Among others was Eastern Air Lines, with a gain of 1 1/2, United Air Lines, up 1/2, and Curtiss-Wright, unchanged.

Commodity prices moved indecisively in slow trading as terms of the French surrender were awaited and the index was little changed from Monday. Cotton futures closed ten to 14 points higher on demand from shorts and mill interests. Wheat at Chicago closed above the day's lowest levels, with net gains of 1/2 to 1 cent a bushel. Rubber broke nearly 1/4 cent a pound in early trading, but later regained most of the ground lost. Hides, after a gain of more than 1/4 cent a pound in the forenoon lost a few points.

In the bond market corporates were firm, foreign issues higher and U. S. Treasuries advanced. German and Italian issues showed strength at the opening but trended lower in later trading. Canadian bonds were firmer and South American issues improved.

In London rail and industrial averages established new lows for the year, although there was no evidence of heavy selling and there was a slightly better trend at the close.

Under the new union contract recently agreed upon by General Motors the corporation's pay-roll will be increased about $8,000,000. Of this amount $5,000,000 represents an allowance of 40 hours pay for every employee with a years seniority; $3,000,000 will be added by various wage adjustments. Employees in active service in the armed forces of the nation will be given leave of absence and accumulate seniority during such service.

Reports from 20 railroads indicate that carloadings last week were approximately 708,000 cars, which would be a new high for the year.

It was disclosed yesterday that a contract had been negotiated whereby the Ford Motor Co. will build 3,000 airplane engines and deliver them to the United States Army within eight months. The Senate appropriations subcommittee has approved tentatively a $43,500,000 addition to the emergency defense appropriation bill to finance the purchase.

New York, June 19 (AP)—Stocks

fluctuated uneasily today in a market fearful of repercussions in America arising from the capitulation of France.

Slight rising tendencies were in evidence near the final hour, but only fractional changes developed. Transactions were at the rate of about 600,000 shares.

Declines of fractions to around a point were frequent among leaders toward noon but transactions were meagre.

Steels, motors and aircrafts turned soft after an uneven opening, due largely to uncertainty concerning Great Britain's ability to ship purchases if the French navy is commandeered by Germany.

Chief share sufferers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, United Aircraft, Sperry, American Can, Eastman, Anaconda, Western Union, DuPont and Standard Oil of N. J. Among the few gainers were Allis Chemical, Westinghouse and Caterpillar.

United States government rearmament orders were regarded by many analysts as the most solid backlog of the munitions industry at present.

Finnish Colony To Hold Outing

The Finnish colony at Riffon Sunday will hold an all-day outing at Lindholm's on the Rock School road and the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Finnish war victims. The outing will start at 2 o'clock.

An interesting program of games such as soft ball, horseshoe pitching and races for young and old have been planned. Prizes will be awarded the winners in the various events.

The entertainment program will include singing and instrumental music. A midsummer bonfire, according to the Finnish tradition, will bring the festivities to a close. Plenty of refreshments will be on sale during the day and evening, and the public is invited to attend.

Meeting

Washington, June 19 (AP)—The United States has initiated a formal move for an early session of the Pan American republics to consider western hemisphere problems growing out of the European war. Undersecretary Sumner Welles disclosed at his press conference today that the 20 other American republics were advised Monday the United States believed present conditions made an immediate session advisable. Welles said replies already had been received from 13 of the governments.

An economic plan under consideration by government officials for the western hemisphere may be among subjects considered.

Collision Reported

Robert Earl Boyer of Lancaster, Pa., reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday night that the car he was driving had been in collision with a car driven by Jacob Schindler of Spring Glen. The accident happened near the intersection of Route 209 and the High Falls turn-off. There were no injuries and the matter was reported as settled.

Weitzel Is Killed

Berlin, June 19 (AP)—Fritz Weitzel, 56, Nazi party leader in Düsseldorf, was killed by a bomb splinter in a British air raid on that city the night of June 18. DNE, official German news agency, announced today. Weitzel was a high SS (black shirt elite guards) official in western Germany.

Free of Treaties

London, June 19 (AP)—R. A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the House of Commons today that Britain considered herself free of any treaties with Italy respecting the Mediterranean, North Africa, East Africa and the middle east "in view of Italy's unprovoked entry into the war."

Hongkong, June 19 (AP)—The Japanese army admitted today that Ichang, important port on the middle Yangtze river, had been temporarily recaptured by the Chinese June 16, but declared that Japanese forces quickly surrounded and retook the city the next day.

Radio Operators Must Prove Citizenship

Washington, June 19 (AP)—Approximately 100,000 radio operators were ordered today by the federal communications commission to submit proof of their citizenship.

Previous commission orders forbade amateurs to communicate with foreign countries, sharply curtailed activities of mobile transmitters, and ordered ship and other operators not to carry on unnecessary conversations.

Today's decree applies to all operators, both amateur and commercial. It calls on them to file proof in the form of affidavits, fingerprints, and photographs before August 15.

The F.C.C. licenses only citizens for all classes of operators, but in the past has relied on the applicant's own statements.

Eastern Star Group Holds Special Flag Day Event

At the regular meeting of Clinton Chapter, No. 445, O. E. S., held at Masonic Temple on Friday evening, Flag Day was observed with a special degree in salute to our country's flag given by the officers of the chapter.

A group of Boy Scouts from Troop No. 11 of St. James Methodist Church under the direction of Edgar Freese, scoutmaster, gave the chapter a demonstration on correct usages of the flag, which proved interesting and informative. The group was in charge of Jack Spader and included John Deegan, William Kinch, Irving Kotrady, Gordon Taylor and Robert Winne.

After the meeting, when the chapter gathered in the dining room for refreshments, Gordon A. Craig, worthy patron, and Mrs. Craig were honored on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, gifts and a wedding cake being presented to them. Mrs. Samuel Morgan, secretary of the chapter, was also surprised with a cake and gift in honor of her birthday.

Iodine Helps Mother
Seattle, June 19 (AP)—A discovery that iodine makes human motherhood easier was reported to the American Association for the advancement of science here today. Small quantities of iodine were given to expectant mothers at the University of Oregon Medical School. The women reported a greater sense of well-being before the babies were born. There were fewer abnormalities of labor during birth. Afterward they were better able to nurse the babies. Finally they recovered more quickly.

Submarine Is Attacked
Cairo, June 19 (AP)—An "entirely successful" dive-bombing attack on an Italian submarine in the Mediterranean was reported today by the British Royal Air Force. An R. A. F. communiqué said two British fighters sighted the submarine while on patrol yesterday and signalled to their base. A Blenheim bomber was sent out and dived on the submarine while the fighting planes machine-gunned the conning tower. Subsequent reports from naval staff said the attack was "entirely successful."

Expectant Adjournment
Washington, June 19 (AP)—Speaker Bankhead expressed the opinion today that Congress could recess by the week-end but he added that "it's going to take whip and spur." "It will take hard riding and some night sessions," to complete necessary work, he said. "but I think we can do it."

STYLE WITH BODICE FLATTERY

MARIAN MARTIN

PATTERN 9423

Match the buoyant, light-hearted mood of summer with this coolly feminine Marian Martin frock, Pattern 9423. You'll like its unusual simplicity, its long, tapering lines, and its softly gathered bodice. The bodice has curved side sections at both front and back, and center panels that form one piece with the skirt. Isn't the neckline gracefully shaped? Buttons, lace edging and a ribbon bow are all charming touches. Make the sleeves in short, gathered style or have perky, crisp ruffles. Either sleeve style, together with the side bodice sections, looks lovely in contrast—say print or eyelet batiste. The Sew Chart will speed you up!

Pattern 9423 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 1/4 yards 39 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

The new MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN BOOK is your key to Summer fashion success. Cool, flattering modes that will take you 'round the clock through shopping, gardening, swimming, golfing, dancing. There are blithe styles for sheers and cottons, slimming matron dresses, travel tips, wedding party costumes and . . . a whole section of young-world playsuits and dresses . . . available in smart, easy-to-sew patterns that can be made at home in a few hours. Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "The Personality of a House," "The Blue Book of Social Usage," etc.)

CONDUCT THAT MAY APPEAR RUDE MAY BE DUE TO SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES

This Is Emily Post's Reply to Correspondent Who Was Perplexed by Actions of Host

A situation, which at some time has occurred in the lives of all of us, is one where some one's behavior gradually impresses us as being rude—and yet we feel quite sure that they cannot have had any such intention. Then some one else exclaims, "How rude they were!" Whereupon we find ourselves jumping at conclusions with which we do not really agree. This is perhaps somewhat involved, so let me quote the letter that suggested the thought:

"The other evening we stopped at the house of friends and found them having an unusually late dinner, because unexpected relatives had stopped by on their way through town. They urged us to sit in the living room and listen to the radio and look at some new magazines while they finished dinner. We did. After a little while some one at the table got up and closed the doors between the living room and the dining room, and my husband and I felt rather shut out.

"Since then I've told a mutual friend about this and she said their behavior was the rudest thing she ever heard of, so now I'm wondering whether this would not be considered rude by everybody. In our own case, the rest of the evening was so pleasant that I had forgotten all about the incident—until I don't know how it happened to come into my mind when talking with the other friend. But now I'm hoping that you will discuss it for the sake of general information."

It might, I think, have been more polite had the person who shut the door given the reason for doing so, but judging by their manners later, I agree with your first impression that they had no thought of rudeness. Reasons that seem most likely were either that Grandpa was sitting in a draught, or that they thought their conversation interrupted your reading or listening to the radio. Or it may have been that they thought you would be afraid the radio would disturb their conversation and keep you from turning it up, etc., etc.

Giving a Party with a Friend

Dear Mrs. Post: When a friend visits me soon we would like to give a party together. Years ago she lived here. Some of the guests are our friends, some her friends, and other my friends. I don't want any of her friends to feel obligated to me because they will not be able to invite her back, as she will go home soon after this. Is there any way the invitations could be sent so I wouldn't be inviting her friends? That is, could we send some of our invitations together and then each one send her own invitations besides?

Answer: Your visitor can not very well send invitations from your house. She can include her visiting card in your invitation. This will show that your invitation is sent on her account. Or she could (if you for example are sharing the expense of the party) write her name under yours on a third person invitation. If they do invite you to their houses in return, it will be because they would like to see you again. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Be sure that your stationery and phraseology is correct, whenever you write a letter. Send for Emily Post's booklet, "The Etiquette of Letter Writing," enclosing ten cents. Address Emily Post, in care The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y.

No Credit
Cleveland—A motorist parked his car in a metered space and left a note saying: "Officer—will leave another nicked if I am late—the owner."
He returned—late—to find an arrest ticket calling for $1 fine and a postscript to his note saying: "No trust after one hour—officers."

Homeward Bound
Dallas—A black-clad woman climbed the railing on the Houston street viaduct and disappeared. A motorist called police.
Detectives Jack Archer and George Kemp found the woman walking down a nearby boulevard.

"Yes," she said, "I just came down the viaduct. I climbed down a ladder. It's a short cut home."

Consideration
Lincoln, Neb.—Drivers of several cars and trucks on U. S. highway 30 were surprised when State Safety Patrolman C. H. Rudge stepped out, blew his whistle, and stopped traffic.
Then they saw, not far behind him, a hen pheasant and her brood of 10 young ones cross the highway, undisturbed.

Power of the Press
Marissa, Ill.—Bonnie Lassie, a dog, had fun chasing news boys, but she erred in biting the newspaper.
Her jaws locked as she shook the rolled paper and a veterinarian had to be called to "rescue" Bonnie.

Another factor which contributes to July's high accident rate is fireworks. Despite widespread legislation against this common cause of blindness and infection, many small children continue to stage private fireworks displays, with disastrous results.

Well-Dressed Convention Delegates Used To Tote Bowie Knives

OTE FOR HONEST ABE

Lincoln's campaign of 1856 as portrayed by Raymond Massey in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois"

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer

Washington — Whatever fireworks the Republicans and Democrats may touch off at Philadelphia and Chicago, this year's conventions will be as decorous as mid-Victorian croquet contests compared with the gun-toting powwows of the past.

Go back to June, 1856, when the newly organized Republican party held its first nominating convention.

The controversy over extension of slavery at its civil war stage in "bloody Kansas." Towns have been captured and houses burned. Moderate leaders on both sides, fearing the union will be smashed under the banner of a but more campaigner battle fiercely. An abolitionist senator from Massachusetts says: "President Pierce goes to the Democratic convention with the light of the burning dwellings of Kansas flashing upon his brow."

Fremont Grappled Grizzlies
Republicans, meeting at Philadelphia, choose as their standard bearer, Gen. John C. Fremont of California, Mexican war veteran and frontiersman, as delegates shout: "We'll go for Fremont; he grappled with the grizzly bear and he beat the Indians. He can lick the slave drivers."

Convention delegates from the far west carry long rifles, come east by stage-coach, running a gauntlet of Indians.

The Democratic convention assembles in Cincinnati to the roar of the Empire club's artillery. The Benton delegates from Missouri, excluded from the convention hall, knock down the doorkeepers to gain entrance.

"Bowie knives and revolvers are flourished but no great harm is done," a newspaper reports.

Buchanan is nominated on the 17th ballot, and Democratic journals assert "the radical black Republicans are on the run." Buchanan wins the presidency but the Republicans carry every northern state except four and run strongly in those. This sectional alignment is to be sharply drawn for many years.

Civil War in Air

Come 1860 and the nation is on the brink of civil war. Chicago, young Babylon of the west, is jammed with visitors to the Republican convention — bearded men in tall hats, long coats and black boots. Women in poke bonnets, shawls and hoop skirts. New York's William H. Seward is the party's leading presidential possibility. Horace Greeley and some others fear, however, that Seward can not carry Pennsylvania and Indiana, essential states.

This paves the way for a Lincoln boom. The Seward followers stage a spectacular parade. Lincoln managers pack the Wigwam, huge convention hall, with rosters for the Rail Splitter.

When marchers arrived at the Wigwam, only the accredited Seward delegates can get in. Every vote for Lincoln brings tremendous cheering. On the first ballot Seward has 173½; Lincoln 102. On the second, Seward gains 10, Lincoln picks up 75.

Ohio Votes Decisive

The third ballot shows 231½ for Lincoln, only 2½ short of a majority. Carter of Ohio stands on his chair and says: "I rise to announce the change of four Ohio votes from Mr. Chase to Abraham Lincoln."

A noise like the rush of a great wind fills the hall. A large charcoal picture of Abe is displayed in the gallery. One hundred guns are fired from the roof of the Fremont house.

A Richmond, Va., newspaper says: "The union is sundered."

Tomorrow: War service and whisks.

Points to Gains In Farm Income

Ithaca, N. Y.—Changes in agricultural income of New York farmers between 1932 and 1938 are shown in a report by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

In 1938 New York farmers had 53 per cent more cash income than they had in 1932, the report says. Farm cash income was $298,774,000 in 1938 of which government payments accounted for $3,682,000.

From $391,000,000 in 1929, the cash income of New York farmers fell to $195,000,000 in 1932; it then climbed to $326,879,000, including government payments, in 1937. This was an increase of 68 per cent above the 1932 level.

Pointed out, as the most substantial gains in cash income from 1932 to 1938 were those made for wheat, hogs, and truck crops. The increases, respectively, were 220 per cent, 178 per cent, and 164 per cent. Other percentage increases reported were for milk, 41 per cent; chickens and eggs, 71; cattle and calves, 65; apples, 2; potatoes, 11; and peaches, 50.

New York farmers have shared in the improvement of farm purchasing power since 1932, it is pointed out, as the result of increases in the exchange value of farm commodities.

Real Estate Values

"Gains in farm income, prices and buying power have been reflected in rising real estate values on New York farms. The year ending March, 1939, marked the low point in the value of farm real estate since the World War, namely, 82 per cent of the pre-war period. From this point the estimated value in New York rose 86 per cent of pre-war for the year ending March, 1939. This indicates a gain of about five per cent.

"Along with a rise in farm real estate values since 1932, there were more voluntary sales of farms in New York and fewer forced sales and bankruptcies.

"In the 1934 crop year, New York growers shifted more than 3,700 acres from wheat, corn, and tobacco. Under the 1935 program, 2,262 crop adjustment contracts were accepted by the AAA from New York farmers. Under the terms of these contracts, the farmers made changes from soil-depleting crops to others which tend to conserve the soil or prevent erosion."

The Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, approved February 29, 1936, marked the second phase of the AAA program. Payments to farmers were provided for practices that would build soil fertility, the report says.

Thousands Take Part

In New York about 38,400 farmers, organized in county associations, took part in the 1936 program. Of the total New York cropland, about 33 per cent, 2,877,000 acres, was covered by a application for payments. A total of 126,463 acres was diverted from soil-depleting crops; soil-building practices were put into effect on about 466,000 acres.

"Farmers of New York received $3,932,000 in conservation payments under the 1937 program and $3,254,670 for 1938, including county association expenses. In addition, under the Price Adjustment Act of 1938, farmers received $59,484 in parity payments during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939."

Soil-building practices put into effect in 1937 included those for new seedings, green-manure and cover crops, mulching, forestry

Expect About 1200 At Club Congress

Ithaca, N. Y.—The big event of the year for New York state's 4-H club members, the annual state club congress, will attract about 1200 farm boys and girls to Cornell University, June 25 to 26. This is the 19th year of the gathering.

Delegates from all parts of the state will be present. The congress combines a short course in agriculture and homemaking with camp and picnic life, and is planned for club members who are at least 14 years of age. Songs, games, dancing, sport, drama, judging contests and supervised swimming are also on the program.

Upon registering, delegates enroll in one of the various groups devoted to livestock, crops, forestry, poultry, farm management, foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles, room improvement, or leadership in recreation. They attend all sessions of that group.

Some 56 blue-ribbon demonstrators from 35 counties will be present to show their skill in room improvement, foods and nutrition, and textiles and clothing. They will repeat, for the benefit of other club members, their work at recent county and district demonstrations.

The annual 4-H congress party will be on Tuesday evening, June 25, and the candle lighting ceremony on the agricultural quadrangle is scheduled for the following evening.

Committee in Charge

The general 4-H congress committees consists of E. C. Grant, chairman, Chemung county; Priscilla Buckholtz, Chenango; F. E. Heinzelman, Ithaca; K. L. Coombs, Chautauqua; and Ethel Potteiger and Norell Startup, district 4-H club agents.

Meeting at the same time as the congress is the state 4-H club council whose officers are Duane Benedict, president, Onondaga county; Evelyn Eagan, vice-president, Monroe; James Murray, corresponding secretary, Chautauqua; Blanche Sharpe, recording secretary, Cortland; Francis Marrer, treasurer, Broome; Annis Tackabury, editor, Madison; and Phyllis Arnold, member of the executive committee, Columbia county.

Delegates to this year's congress will register on Monday afternoon, June 24, and also on Tuesday morning, at Willard Straight Hall on the Cornell campus.

The deal puts Medwick under the wing of his friend and former team-mate, Leo Durocher, Joe batted .379 in 1934 World Series, never has hit under .300 in his career.

IT'S THE MOTORIST WHO PAYS AND PAYS—Here's one of the toll booths on Pennsylvania's $70,000,000, four-lane, 160-mile express highway under construction between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg. Tolls will range from $1.25 to $1.50 for passenger cars, from $4 to $10 on trucks (depending on weight). There'll be no red lights, left turns or intersections on road.

ABOUT THOSE 4-H PROBLEMS—Domestic not foreign matters concern F.D.R. (left) in chat with 4-H club members at capital encampment. Also in car is Ambassador Josephus Daniels.

FAIR SEX—Chosen "fairest" of 1,000 socialites at "Green-tree Fair," Gloria Vanderbilt, 16, gets started toward the glamor girl title that probably will soon be hers. The fair, for a milk fund benefit, was on Mrs. Payne Whitney's estate.

FIFTY, EH?—Easing the soldiers' burden, Uncle Sam introduces a new jacket. It weighs 1 pound, 9 ounces, against 3 pounds, 2 ounces of the old jacket. Of simple design, it's made of water-repellent cotton twill, lined with flannel.

Recs Are Set for First Night Game With Penn Red Caps

Crowd Is Expected To Be at Stadium For Nocturnal Tilt

Manager Carl Husta to Use Same Lineup; Game to Start at 9 P. M.

After failing to draw crowds to Sunday afternoon games at Municipal Stadium Carl Husta's Kingston Recs will go into their first nocturnal clash of the campaign tonight against the strong Penn Red Caps. Game time is 9 o'clock.

Although nothing definite has been released concerning the Red Caps it is assured that the club will be one of the strongest ever to appear in Kingston. The Red Caps are an old, established negro club who played the original Colonials several times in the past.

The Recs have secured lighting equipment from Pop Winslow's A. B. C. Enterprises of Long Island and they are expected to be the best in the state. Manager Husta has been informed that the portable equipment will arrive in Kingston in plenty of time to get the game started at the stated time.

Neff Will Pitch
Big Charlie Neff with two victories under his belt already will go to the mound for the Hustas in an effort to make it two in a row for Kingston and three in a row for his pitching efforts. In last year's night battles Neff was really something to look at. His burning fast ball was too much for any club to get a close peek at. And it is hoped by Manager Husta that the New Paltz hurler will resume his night hurling in the same style.

As announced before the Recs will be at the stadium for night and twilight games in the future. After giving exceptional performances all season for the benefit of the few cash customers, the Recs have been forced to "hit the road" for Sunday games.

Manager Carl Husta, in talking with the writer yesterday morning announced that Kingston would open with the same line-up as on Sunday when the Thelma A. C. came to town for a disappointing show. Jack Schatzel, George "Red" McLean, Andy Celuch, Chappie VanDerzee will form the inner defense while Tommy Maines, Vince Smedes and Bill Thomas will be on the picket line. Charlie Neff and George Zadany will form the local battery.

Strong Team
Husta also said "the Penn Red Caps are reported to be even stronger than the famous Mohawk Colored Giants and that should mean something." Manager Husta and the Recreation department have gone into the best circles in order to bring one of the top-notch clubs to Kingston for the first 1940 night attraction.

After Sunday's tussle with the Schenectady club, Husta was quite satisfied with his hitting department, mainly Jack Schatzel and Andy Celuch. Both Celuch and Schatzel paced the Recs with timely hits off the competent flinging of Tom Poole and Charlie Zagata. Meanwhile, Chappie VanDerzee, playing acceptably at short; George Zadany, Mac Tiano and Bill Thomas continue in their slump. However, they are expected to shake this off in tonight's game with the Red Caps.

Following are the starting line-ups:

What cared Johnny Mize if he was four days behind Babe Ruth's 1927 all-time homer-hitting record in hitting his 17th home run of the 1940 campaign? Gentle John's No. 17, Series 1940, came exactly 30 days ahead of his No. 17, 1939. Last year, on his way to the National League home run championship, he clicked No. 17 on July 9.

Joe Louis Appears To Be in Vicious Humor for Godoy

By GAYLE TALBOT
New York, June 19 (AP) — Joe Louis is finely drawn and appears to be in a vicious humor for his second fight with Arturo Godoy, the durable Chilean, tomorrow night at Yankee Stadium.

The face of the big negro still is expressionless and his conversation strictly limited to monosyllables, but his stomach is as flat as the pavement and he is down to 200 pounds, his best fighting weight.

His final workout yesterday was furious and purposeful. It came as something of a shock to the crowd at Greenwood Lake to see the champion knock Joe O'Gatty, a harmless sparring partner, down and out with a sudden burst of punches.

O'Gatty, under instructions, had been crouching and rushing Louis, like Godoy is expected to do, and for a time he had Joe looking the best in the state. But then one of his headlong plunges went wrong, and Louis nailed him flush on the jaw.

On Keen Edge
This was the first time any one could remember having seen Louis smash an employee around just before a fight. It was taken as a sign that he really has been brooding about his failure to stop Godoy in their first scrap and has reached an unusually keen edge for this one.

Asked what he intended doing to Godoy tomorrow night, Joe would only say: "I promise you he'll fight this time."
Old Jack Blackburn, the champion's trainer, said there was one thing for certain, that Louis had no intention of going into a crouch like Godoy's and trying to force the Chilean to straighten up. "He'll fight his usual fight, and that'll be good enough."

Joe'll Start Early
The other time he admittedly was puzzled by the challenger's strange style and fearful of breaking his hands on Godoy's head. He knows now that Godoy doesn't have enough punch to hurt him seriously, so it would not be surprising to see Louis launch a first-round attack as the one that tore Max Schmeling apart in their second fight.

The odds parlors still are laying 5 to 1 against Godoy's chances of lifting the championship, but a majority of observers think he will go the limit again.

City Softball League Results

Hercules softball team ran its streak to five games last night at armory No. 2 diamond by trimming the Keystone Oilers, 8 to 3. The Powdermen collected 13 hits off the offerings of Langley.

Harold Faile notched his second victory in as many games by baffling the Oilers throughout the game. The Oilers poked out two homers but aside from this, the winning hurler had easy going.

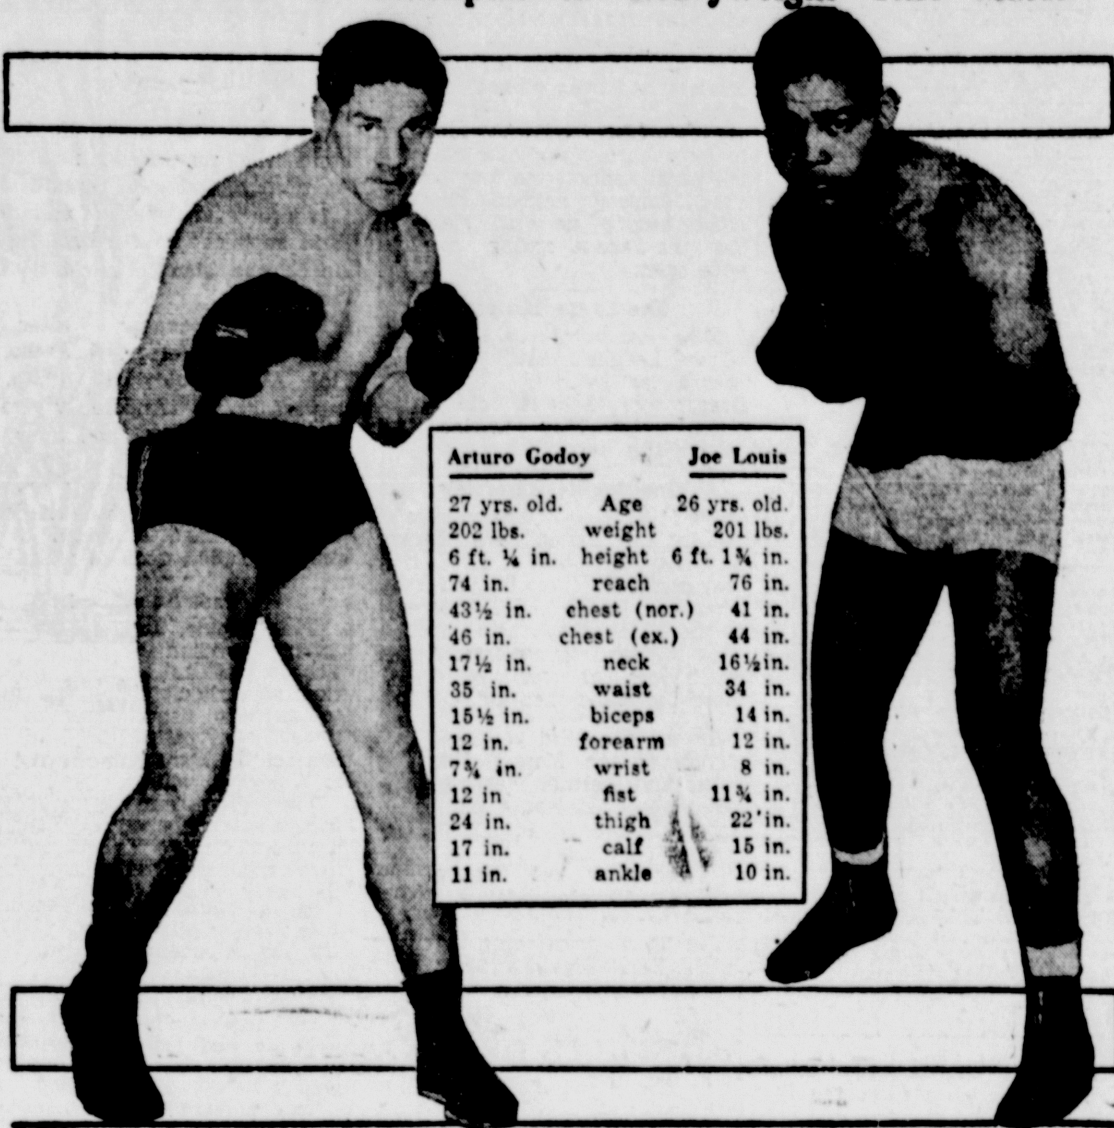

Tibor Tomshaw, Jimmy Steigerwald and Charlie Bock, slammed the offerings of Langley for round-trippers while Ken Newell collected two doubles to lead the assault. Joyce and Ray Lindhorst made homers for Keystone.

Totals:
Hercules R H E
Keystone 3 8 1
Batteries: Faile and Murock; Langley and Garraghan.

Scoring one run in the top half of the seventh inning Peter Schuyler took a 5 to 4 decision from Kingston Youth Center last night at Block Park in a City League battle. The cigmarmen tied the count in the sixth when Roy Saehlof slammed out a homer, then came back in the seventh on Robinson's one-baser to give them the game.

Score by innings:
Schuyler 1000211—5 10 2
K. Y. Center 200020—4 6 2
Batteries: Sheeley, Roberts and Hinkley; Gedney and Smith.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

(By The Associated Press)

Joseph (Muscles) Medwick, the big batter and leg man who was supposed to bring the Brooklyn Dodgers a pennant, is lying in a hospital today and the question is whether he took the Dodgers' championship chance with him.

Medwick suffered a concussion of the brain yesterday when hit by one of Bob Bowman's pitches in the first inning of a game which the St. Louis Cardinals ultimately won 7-5 in 11 innings. He is expected to be out of the lineup about three weeks, after which he may return as good as new—or he may not.

Head injuries are often very damaging. Jake Powell of the Yankees was hurt just before the season started and never has played a game, although he's back with the club for some time. Lee Handley of the Pittsburgh Pirates was conked a year ago last spring and didn't get back into shape until this season. Peeewe Reese of the Dodgers was knocked out in an accident similar to Medwick's on June 1 and still is out of action.

Loss of a player as valuable as Medwick is nothing less than heart-breaking to a club in the heat of a pennant chase. It puts the Dodgers right back where they were before they spent that estimated $150,000 and four players for Medwick and Pitcher Curt Davis a week ago today.

Their defeat yesterday was the fourth straight. They scored four runs against the Cards in the first game, gave three of them right back in the second and saw the score tied in the eighth when Luke Hamlin served up one of his well-known home run balls to Enos Slaughter with one on. The Cards hung on to win in the 11th while Mort Cooper shut out Brooklyn for the last four innings. It was the sixth straight win for St. Louis.

The Dodgers' plight might be worse except that their National League rivals seem to have chosen this exact time for an attack of the staggers.
Bucky Loses Again
Bucky Walters, who won nine games in a row at the start of the season, was beaten for the fourth time in a row last night as the Phillies pounced upon the Cincinnati Reds 3-1. Bob Bragan, a rookie shortstop, caused all the trouble by hitting two home runs, one of them with one on to win the game in the ninth inning. Walters gave up just five hits and struck out eight.

At the same time the third place New York Giants were getting a 6-1 going over by the Chicago Cubs in a starlight session in New York. Jake Mooney, Chicago's little freshman right-hander, held the Giants to six hits and had them shut out until two were out in the ninth inning.

The six-game winning streak of the Boston Red Sox finally was snapped at St. Louis in a motion picture finish that starred John Berardino. He came to bat in the tenth inning with the score tied and the bases loaded—and hit a home run for the Browns' 11-7 triumph.

Lefty Al Smith obtained his seventh victory against one defeat as the Cleveland Indians nosed out the Washington Senators 2-1 in a night game and moved into a tie with the Detroit Tigers for second place in the American League.

Smith gave up only five hits. The New York Yankees were set back for the third straight time as the Chicago White Sox ended a five-game losing streak of their own, 5-3, behind the six-hit hurling of Southpaw Ed Smith, who also had stopped the Yanks when he faced them a couple of weeks ago in New York. The Sox pecked out 14 hits, including two home runs. The Yanks were able to equal the latter.

Dodgers' Medwick Is Reported Better

New York, June 19 (AP) — Joe Medwick, hit on the head by a pitched ball, was reported reacting favorably today.

The new Dodger outfielder was knocked unconscious yesterday in a game with his old teammates, the Cardinals. The pitch, by Bob Bowman, came in the first inning. Physicians said Medwick would be kept in a hospital five or six days for observation. He suffered a concussion, but there was no skull fracture. He was reported resting comfortably.

Medwick is the second Brooklyn player to be hit on the head by a pitched ball this season. Peeewe Reese was struck in a game at Chicago recently and has not returned to the lineup.

If all the bombs are shot before we get near the war, baseball's proudest contribution to the nation's health may be Joe Beggs, of the Cincinnati Reds' pitching staff. Warfare by the old rules is right down Joe's street. In his campus days at Geneva College he was one of the greatest javelin throwers in the world.

THINGS NOT SO DUCKY FOR MEDWICK

Players gather around Dodger slugger Joe Medwick as the former St. Louis Cardinal lies stretched out on the ground after being hit by a pitched ball in the first inning of the Brooklyn-St. Louis game in New York. Medwick suffered a concussion of the brain and is expected to be lost to the team for about three weeks. Bob Bowman, Red Birds right-hander, threw the pitch that dropped the famous outfielder who joined the Brooklyn team less than a week ago.

Huskies Beat Cornell In Annual College Race

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 19 (AP) — It couldn't have been screwier if Joe Penner, Olson and Johnson and Joe Cook had teamed to stage it.

Usually a decorous and very staid affair, the 43rd annual Poughkeepsie regatta became anything but that yesterday, and the only thing in its favor was the courageous performance of Washington in winning the varsity race.

In the first place, the whole affair, which should last about three hours, took over six and a half. The first time they tried to run the junior varsity race, four of the six boats swamped. The second time they ran it, night had fallen over the ruffled Hudson and not one person in a thousand who came to view the races ever saw the event.

The crowd was the smallest ever, veteran river men said, and the hawkers were stuck with hundreds of programs, banners and pennants—in fact, everything but hot dogs, which were consumed rapidly as the hungry hundreds along the shore and on the observation train tried to pass the long hours between the races by eating.

The varsity race, scheduled for the unusually early hour of 4 p. m. (E. S. T.), finally got off in the gathering dusk some three hours later after the fate of the jayvees had made it obvious that there wasn't any use trying to stay on schedule.

Cornell Close
Washington won, for the third time in the last five years, with a performance that everyone but close students of the sport thought was magnificent. Raw, red courage was there, but rowing smoothness was not. Nevertheless the Huskies, with the wind and tide against them, negotiated the four miles in 22:42 flat to wind up three quarters of a length better than the pride of the east—a dogged Cornell crew that battled every inch of the way.

Syracuse, after leading for a mile and a half, beat out Navy for third place in a final spurt. California, last year's winner, Columbia, Wisconsin and Princeton trailed along somewhere in the rear.

Both attempts of the Jayvee race were strictly ridiculous. The first time, only three of the six boats managed to last a mile and the fourth went under shortly thereafter. Cornell and Navy stayed afloat, strenuously protesting the three shots that meant "stop."

Long after the varsity race was finished and everybody had gone home, late stragglers saw some ghostly shells going down the river and reporters were able to ferret out later that the junior race had been run with Washington, Navy, California, Syracuse, Columbia and Cornell finishing in that order.

Practically no one saw the race and how it could be timed, as the winning boat was, in 18:07.1 for three miles, will always remain a mystery.

In the freshman race, poorly rowed, Cornell beat Princeton, Syracuse and Columbia in the slow two-mile time of 10:55.1.

Freeman Softies Lose
Slamming the offerings of Leahey, Diers, Little and Dittus, the Immanuel Lutheran softball team trampled over the Freeman Softies last night at Hasbrouck Park by the score of 20 to 12. Petri and Weil formed the winning battery.

DICTATORS MEET AGAIN IN MUNICH

Adolf Hitler (right) and Benito Mussolini stand in the auto which bears them through the crowded streets of Munich, Germany, where they met and agreed on the terms of an "Axis peace" for France—unspecified but expected to be harsh—and left the city even as French poilus were told to keep on fighting until an armistice is actually signed. This picture was radioed from Berlin to New York.

Cottkill Man Held on Charge

Kenneth Signor, 28, of Cottkill, entered a plea of not guilty of a charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated when he was arraigned before Judge Matthew V. Cahill in police court this morning. The hearing was adjourned to June 28, and bail fixed at $500.

Signor was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Lenville Relyea Tuesday afternoon following an automobile crash between the cars driven by Signor and Mrs. Sadie Gruberg of 728 Broadway, in front of the Benedictine Hospital on Mary's avenue, on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Gruberg and her son, William, 13, were injured, but not seriously.

Both cars were damaged in the crash, which was almost head-on. The Gruberg car was towed to the Buick garage for repairs and the Signor car to Doc Smith's Garage.

Traffic Violations

Douglas Kennedy of 83 Clifton avenue, Edward F. Sylvester of 83 Elmendorf street, and William Bradley of Union City, N. J., all charged with violation of the parking ordinance on Fair street, forfeited bail in the sum of $1 each when they failed to appear in police court today to answer to the charge.

Mrs. Hazel Drewes of Guyton street, R. F. D. 2, arrested for illegal parking on Wall street, forfeited $1 cash bail by failure to appear in court today.

William Stevens, 32, of Ellenville, charged with pandering on Broadway on Tuesday, was sentenced to 60 days in jail, but serving of the sentence was suspended.

Case Goes to Jury

New York, June 19 (AP)—After an 11 weeks trial, the case of 14 men charged with complicity in a conspiracy to overthrow the U. S. government went to the jury in Brooklyn federal court today. The 14 were in a group of 17 arrested in January and charged by J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, with being members of an undercover organization plotting to seize armament supplies, assassinate government officials, and blow up strategic institutions and seize others. One of the defendants killed himself and charges against two others were dismissed. Thirteen were tried on charges of conspiring to overthrow the government, and to steal government munitions, and one, Alfred J. Quinlan, with only the latter offense.

President Favors Huge Naval Bill

sphere to any non-American power.

President Roosevelt, in outlining the compulsory training program he has under consideration, emphasized that it was still in the study stage.

It contemplated, he explained, eventual government service for all of the nation's young men—and perhaps its young women—in promoting the national defense.

He divided the types of service into four classifications. There would be those in the fighting forces, he said; those in the auxiliary uniformed forces behind the lines; those engaged in the production of munitions and defense materials, and those whose task it would be to conserve national resources.

Training for Year

Mr. Roosevelt mentioned a year as the length of training that might be required, and said that such a term of disciplined training would be good for the nation's young people, besides helping defense.

Most Democrats in Congress gave either flat or conditional endorsement and most Republicans criticized the plan, but opinion did not always follow party lines. Some members, such as Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.), said they would have to see the program in more concrete form before committing themselves.

Rep. Miller (R., Conn.), a world war aviator, said, "the plan seems like complete totalitarianism. We fought the world war to destroy militarism. This would go further than Kaiser Wilhelm ever dreamed of."

Senator Lodge (R., Mass.), on the other hand, said he was for going even further and making military training compulsory. Rep. Casey (D., Mass.), expressing approval of the President's plan, said that "it is about time we woke up."

Rep. Wadsworth (R., N. Y.), called the plan "contrary to our philosophy and way of life," while Rep. Tinkham (R., Mass.), said, "I don't see how conditions now necessitate that step—of course, they may tomorrow since things move so fast."

Congressional predictions that defense expenditures—now more than $5,000,000,000—would be swelled further by an additional armory appropriation request did not specify the purpose or the exact figures to be asked.

The speculation followed Admiral Harold R. Stark's advocacy yesterday of a new $4,000,000,000 fleet expansion as essential to the nation's defense.

His program, quickly approved by the House naval committee, contemplates the addition of some 200 vessels to the fleet, but appropriations would not be sought until subsequent sessions of Congress. If the expansion is voted, Stark said he would ask for $175,000,000 now to begin work.

Special Training Given by C.M.T.C.

Only two candidates from Ulster county, together with two alternates, will be selected for enrollment in the special course for business and professional men at the Plattsburg barracks, July 5 to August 3, and a total of 500 men only will be accepted from the second corps area which includes New York state, New Jersey and Delaware.

Major Frank L. Meagher, principal of the M. J. Michael School, and chairman of the Citizen's Military Training Camp committee of the enrollment for this special course and application blanks may be obtained from him at the school.

The deadline for applications to be filed is Tuesday, June 25. Applicants accepted must pay for their own transportation and meals, which amounts to $43.50. This special course is made a branch of the CMTC, and those who attend will not receive commissions nor will they be obligated for subsequent military service, but the course will serve to prepare them in case of a general emergency.

him this morning from the high school he found the two had been made from a bed-sheet which had been accurately measured and cut with the Nazi emblem painted in black upon it.

Hung From Clothesline

The emblem found across Market street had apparently been suspended from a clothesline which had been removed from a nearby yard. Identity of the man who removed the emblem from Market street was not known to Chief Richter today and he said apparently the rope had been stretched across the street at a low distance which made it possible to either tear down or cut the rope as the car passed along Market street.

Whether the appearance of the improvised swastikas is a demonstration by pro-Nazi in the vicinity of Saugerties or some "joke" by minors could not be ascertained and Chief Richter said he referred the matter to the Department of Justice and would continue his investigation pending action by the F. B. I.

The emblems had apparently been made some time prior to being hauled up since the paint was dry.

Education Board Seeks Coal Bids

The Board of Education released an announcement today that it solicits bids from local coal dealers for furnishing coal to the public schools for the school year 1940-41.

Amounts of orders is limited to a minimum of 750 and a maximum of 850 tons of pea coal and a minimum of 200 and a maximum of 300 tons of No. 2 buckwheat, to be delivered in the bins at the several schools and apportioned by the board.

The board stipulates that the coal must be of the highest grade screened anthracite coal.

Other provisions are to the effect that all bids must be sealed and marked: "Bid for Coal" and must be filed with the superintendent of schools on or before 12 o'clock noon June 27. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to accept any one, which in the judgment of the board, is to the interest of the Board of Education.

White Folks Only Workers in Texas

Dallas, June 19 (AP)—At cock's crow today field hands just rolled over and snoozed.

When the old rooster got too rambunctious they wrung his neck and pitched him in a pot.

It was Juneteenth—the anniversary of the emancipation of Texas slaves. Nobody but white folks stirred unless he wanted to.

There were fish fries and barbecues galore. Cooks, maids, chauffeurs, field hands, dock wallpores and pool room loafers went on excursions.

Bull fiddles groaned and saxophones moaned and folks just danced and danced and danced.

Even convicts had a holiday. They ate fried chicken and danced with girls they knew in the outside world. The guards didn't care as long as nobody ran off.

Folks around Centerville, the black-eye pea capital, ate a big mess of poorjohn. Poorjohn is peas cooked with a slab of fat bacon, topped with raw onions and cornbread.

In south Texas there were red-ripe watermelons.

Nearly everybody had side-meat, pork ribs, rice, chicken, crawfish, catfish or perch, turnip greens and sweet potatoes.

People like Juneteenth; folks don't have to work, just eat and dance and have a big time.

Peek Urges Republicans To Look to Control of Colonies in Hemisphere

Philadelphia, June 19 (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, told the Republican resolutions committee today his organization favored "every ounce of assistance and supplies" to the democracies in Europe "short of our entry into the war."

Former Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey asked whether the AFL would be willing, if necessary, to "temporarily give up some of its wage and hour advantages."

"Labor," Green replied, "is prepared to make the same sacrifices as the average American citizen may be called upon to make."

Peek's Proposal

Philadelphia, June 19 (AP)—A former government official urged the Republican national convention resolutions committee today to support negotiations looking toward "our political and military control" of European-owned lands in American waters.

The recommendation was contained in a statement over the signature of George N. Peek, agricultural adjustment administrator in the early days of the New Deal. Presented by Henry Carter, a representative of Peek, as the committee opened public hearings, the statement asked the policy-forming group to consider a move for control over lands "in both the Atlantic and Pacific essential to our defense of the Monroe Doctrine."

The present foreign program, the statement asserted, "is stripping us of military aircraft and supplies without the prospect of their early replacement" and threatens "to embroil us in a European war."

The resolutions committee, endeavoring to write a platform plank expressing the party's viewpoint on foreign relations, was confronted with President Roosevelt's proposal for compulsory national service.

This and a speech in which John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. spoke praising, and perhaps significantly, of Herbert Hoover, provided the vanguard of next week's national convention with an abundance of discussion.

Glenn Frank, chairman of the committee which wrote a party program last winter, said Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion conformed to the trend of New Deal philosophy.

"The heart of the New Deal," he said, "is in an approach to a conscripted life."

Russian or German?

David Ingalls, campaign manager for Senator Taft of Ohio, bluntly asked "which totalitarian model has he in mind, Russian or German?"

Alf M. Landon, the 1936 nominee, who was appointed chairman of the subcommittee on national defense and foreign affairs late yesterday, said the President was using "weasel words," and added that he wanted to see more exactly what Mr. Roosevelt had in mind.

"It is typical of the New Deal," he said, "that his subject developed at a White House press conference."

reference and was not embodied in a message to Congress. The resolutions committee set aside the entire day for open hearings at which the representatives of numerous organizations were allotted speaking time. Among them were Lewis, William Green of the American Federation of Labor; Noel Sargent of the National Association of Manufacturers; L. J. Taber of the National Grange; and Edward O'Neill of the Farm Bureau Federation.

Artist Is Sought

Mexico City, June 19 (AP)—Police called upon newspapers and radio stations throughout the nation today to assist in a hunt for David Alfaro Siqueiros, well known Mexican artist, who, they alleged, had been identified as a conspirator in the machine-gun attempt on the life of Leon Trotsky May 24. Siqueiros, a Communist leader, was a colonel in the Madrid army during the Spanish civil war.
